

KNOW THE RISKS

To be prepared for disasters, we need to know what we might be facing. Some of the risks we face in Redcliff include fire, dangerous goods incidents by rail or road, and severe weather. In addition to these, there are other types of risks, including power outages, flooding and human health emergencies such as a pandemic.

Each type of emergency requires different preparations.

Every household needs emergency supplies and an emergency plan.

It will help you and your family to know what to do in case of an emergency.

Your family may not be together when an emergency occurs. Plan how to meet or how to contact one another, and discuss what you would do in different situations.

Don't forget to plan for your pets too!
